Bernays’ Mass Mind Control Tactics Loom in Background of Jade Helm Psyop

By Bernie Suarez

To begin with, let’s reiterate that we are factually in the middle of operation Jade Helm 15 as of mid-August 2015. Thus, every major influential piece of mainstream media news currently being put forth is reasonably suspected of being part of this cooperative psyop. Notably, there is also a clear and verifiable history of CIA’s mainstream media working hand-in-hand with the U.S. Military Industrial Complex. That said, if you are not sure of this please do your research so you are able to appreciate a good perspective on this issue.

The stated goal of U.S. military operation Jade Helm 15 is to “master the human domain.” You may ask, how is this operation being implemented? According to U.S. Special Operations Command (SOCOM) documents revealed by technology researchers, the human domain will be mastered by controlling the individual’s environment. And that environment I would have to believe very much includes what mainstream media news they watch and are led to believe is true. Apparently, someone decided that controlling the “environment” of the human can lead to the ability to control the human itself.

Anyone who familiarizes themselves with the work of public relations head pioneer Edward Bernays may recognize this ideology of how to control the masses. His ideas were very similar to what we are hearing today. It was Bernays who specifically said that the masses could be controlled by controlling the “circumstances” around them and “staging” situations to ultimately guide mass behavior. Here’s an excerpt from one of Bernays’ collections titled Propaganda:

> It might be better to have, instead of propaganda and special pleading, committees of wise men who would choose our rulers, dictate our conduct, private and public, and decide upon the best types of clothes for us to wear and the best kinds of food for us to eat. But we have chosen the opposite method, that of open competition. We must find a way to make free competition function with reasonable smoothness. To achieve this society has consented to permit free competition to be organized by leadership and propaganda.

> Some of the phenomena of this process are criticized the manipulation of news, the inflation of personality, and the general ballyhoo by which politicians and commercial products and social ideas are brought to the consciousness of the masses. The instruments by which public opinion is organized and focused may be misused. But such organization and focusing are necessary to orderly life.

> As civilization has become more complex, and as the need for invisible government has been increasingly demonstrated, the technical means have been invented and developed by which opinion may be regimented.

With the printing press and the newspaper, the railroad, the telephone, telegraph, radio and airplanes, ideas can be spread rapidly and even instantaneously over the whole of America.

A strong admirer of H.G. Wells who he quotes in his book, Bernays felt it was the DUTY of those in control to manipulate the masses because Bernays like Wells felt that this was the way to provide “order.” In fact, the chapter this excerpt is taken from is titled “Organized Chaos.” Does any of this sound familiar? You probably already recognize that this idea of staging, manipulating and controlling the circumstance and the psychological environment of the individual is very much what today’s government, mass mainstream media and Hollywood is all about. And it certainly sounds a lot like the control aspirations and tactical implementation strategies behind today’s Jade Helm military operations for mastering the human domain. It just goes to show that nothing has really changed all these years. The controllers think exactly today like they did then.

Now more than ever it is important for people to realize that there are many large entities that study and manipulate human behavior by rolling out staged situations, using key words, pushing predictive programming and by creating specific arguments, narratives and circumstances that put the individual in a situation where they are most likely to act in a certain way. Today it’s not just TV, radio, newspapers and magazines being used to guide the narratives but also social media and online trolls. All of this is for the sake of molding and shaping not just one act, but your regular and ongoing behavior into one that is predictable and fulfills the desires of the controllers. The predictability of your behavior as a result of this mass behavior manipulation is then used for several very important purposes: to control you, enslave you, and squeeze the maximum amount of profit out of you.

As already mentioned earlier, not only were Bernays’ propaganda techniques designed to control the behavior of the masses into a predictable and controllable process to be used as a tool for the elite to enslave and profit from the little people, but it is also important to note that Bernays himself felt these techniques were a necessity, even an obligation to implement on the controlled masses.

Understanding this allows us to take sneak peak into the minds of psychopathic control freaks and allows us to see how they justify human suffering for the supposed greater good. Of course, the reality is that what they impose on humanity is for their OWN personal diabolical and callous satisfaction.

This also allows us to take a look inside the mind of the new world order. Inside the mind of today’s global elite, that is. This would appear to be the mindset behind Jade Helm. And why not? If you are the global elite and if you have access to super computers and software with capabilities to help with your goals why not do it?

The controllers were probably thinking, if we can get someone to predictably buy our products, order our cable TV shows, vote a certain way or take a stand on an issue exactly as we want them to, why not get them to accept their permanent enslavement or get them to believe that slavery IS freedom? That resistance is futile. Why not get them to believe that being a patriot makes you a terrorist? Or that being a corrupt criminal and dishonest politician makes you a candidate for the next presidential election?

Isn’t it time we stop this overplayed, predictable programming and mass mind manipulation? Isn’t it time we grab the script out of their hands and tear it up? How many times do we have to watch the exact same script play out over and over again before we finally take action to break away from this old paradigm? How many hard lessons do we have to learn? How many more painful false flag operations do we have to endure before we take action in our own lives?
The time to put to rest the same tactics of control, lies and deception is now. We are living in a renaissance period of consciousness and truth. Pulling the curtain once and for all on the globalist blueprint for enslavement is part of this excitement. We can understand what’s happening at a larger scale today because the globalists seem to always document what they want to do. This time they once again told us exactly how they would like to control us and many of us are now simply aware of these stated goals. They plan on doing it by controlling the environment and the circumstances of the individual and thus controlling the individual through predictive situations. Mystery solved.

Solutions

Interesting how the controllers thought they would push the Jade Helm strategy on humanity without thinking humanity could counter with sound, peaceful, well thought out strategies. The counter strategy is simple. Be yourself and think critically on your own. Stand for what you believe in and break away from the collectivist mentality which they need as a critical backdrop to implement their plans. Stop thinking as a group and stop allowing every mainstream media story and Hollywood movie guide what you think next. Develop a new way to process mainstream media news keeping a safe mental distance from the primitive reactive effect of it and instead approach their stories from a more analytical point of view. Protect your mind from mainstream media news the same way you would protect your body from junk food in order to stay healthy.

So we’re predominantly talking about a new way of processing the messages put out by the control system. Realize that their messages are everywhere. Realize that we are in the middle of a war for your mind and you have to mentally arm yourself for survival. This is the nature of the war we are talking about. The timing is perfect. Now is the time to question everything and cherish your consciousness more than the material things of this world. Cherish who you are and protect those memories knowing that someone out there thinks your journey and your consciousness is irrelevant. That is why they’ve been pushing collectivism to condition you to think that your personal journey is irrelevant in the bigger picture.

Who would have thought that one of the greatest forms of resistance to the control freaks and elite is simply remembering who you are and how special each and every single one of us is? This is about self-ownership and accountability to yourself and a higher power not to a small group of defective, lower class, psychopathic global financial elite. Doesn’t that make sense?

Do you understand this basic message of mental freedom and complete breakaway from the staged and repeated script continuously implemented by the control system whose main process is controlling your psychological environment? If you do then you are mentally free. Share this message with others who are still mentally enslaved in a world of blind faith, coincidences, randomness and “non-conspiracy” theories. Remind them that everything really is staged. Every important piece of mainstream media news and Hollywood message today is planned, organized and carefully being implemented with a carefully thought-out, clear-cut purpose.

Remind others that the thing that will make life enjoyable and meaningful again, for many people overwhelmed with the news of today, is actually getting back to that state where things really occur in a random and spontaneous manner (i.e. removing the controllers). The notion that someone or something greater than us is in control will bring mental healing. That great feeling is restored once you break away from the matrix of lies we live in now. Anything else outside of this is a continuous circling around the same synthetic path of repeated deception and staged situations played out many times in the past. This is a road of certain enslavement, learned helplessness, mental weakness and fear only soothed by temporary entertainment and distractions provided by the very same system who put you in this enslavement situation to begin with. This is not a good way to live your life.
